EXPERIENCE IN OBSTETRICS AND GYNAECOLOGY

I commenced my training in Obstetrics and Gynaecology in 1980 in Nigeria and continued in the British Isles in 1985 in pursuit of professional growth. I became an accredited specialist in January 1994 and took up the position of Consultant in Obstetrics & Gynaecology in April 1994. I am enrolled on the RCOG Continuing Medical Education (CME) programme.

I have extensive experience in general obstetrics and gynaecology and with special interest in antenatal care, intrapartum care, pelvic pain, menstrual abnormalities and cosmetic gynaecological surgery.

FAMILY PLANNING AND REPRODUCTIVE CONTROL

I have an interest in sexual health issues. I am a Principal Trainer, Special Skills Training [Menopause], RCOG Faculty of Family Planning and Reproductive Health Care. I am a Family Planning Instructor and an accredited Instructor in Insertion and Removal of Implanon. I am an Associate Editor of the journal, "Sexual Health Matters".

CLINICAL AUDIT

I was the Lead Clinician for Audit in Obstetrics and Gynaecology and a member of the Hospital Audit Committee at North Tyneside Hospital, North Shields. In these role I ensured the prioritisation and coordination of audit projects and implementation of recommendations. I received the 1997 BMA Research Award (Joan Dawkin Award) for Clinical Audit. I audit my clinical practices on a regular basis and have a proven interest in Audit.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Teaching is an aspect of medicine I relish. In addition to imparting knowledge to junior colleagues, it provides me with an opportunity for continuing medical education. I was the RCOG Tutor and in this role ensured that the educational needs of trainees were met. I continue to act as Educational Supervisor for a number of trainees. My current position provides me with the opportunity to teach all members of the health team and I have undertaken this on a regular basis and with mutual benefit.

MANAGEMENT EXPERIENCE

My journey through an MBA course provided me an in-depth perspective on management issues. I hold a master's degree in business administration (MBA), from the University of Newcastle. I have through other management programmes and responsibilities kept my MBA fresh and of value. I was the Lead Clinician in Obstetrics and Gynaecology, North Tyneside Hospital from 2003 to 2004.

I am an Associate Member of the General Medical Council (GMC) Fitness to Practice Committee and previously acted as Performance Assessor for the GMC.

I was a member of the Northumbria Healthcare NHS Trust Project Team that undertook the NHS Executive Clinical Governance Development Programme.

I was involved in the review of Trust-wide Maternity Services and was Chairperson of the intra-partum subgroup. As a member of the Labour Ward Committee, I was involved in the evaluation of current practices and problems. I was the lead clinician in Audit and Chairman of the Directorate of Obstetrics and Gynaecology Audit Committee. I was the Lead Clinician in Gynaecology Risk Management at North Tyneside Hospital.

I am a member of Council and County Chairman of the Hospital Consultant and Specialist Association. I have served as a member on the Editorial Boards of scientific journals and currently serve as Associate Editor of Sexual Health Matters and Editorial Board Member of the Journal of the Royal Society of Health.

MEDICO-LEGAL ISSUES

I hold a Certificate in Medical Law, awarded by the School of Law, University of Glasgow and Masters in Medical Law from the Northumbria University. I have attended various courses on expert evidence, report writing, litigation and risk management. My areas of interest are intra-partum events, birth trauma, perineal injuries, failed female sterilisation and complications of gynaecological and obstetric surgery.

I write reports for plaintiff and defendants. I undertook work as performance assessor for the General Medical Council, a role in which I provided expert assessment of the clinical performance of doctors whose performance has been brought into question. I am involved in the quasi-judicial assessment of submissions by counsel and witness in my current role as an Associate Member of the Fitness to Practice Committee of the GMC and the Health Professions Council (HPC).

I am listed in The Expert Witness, UK Register of Expert Witnesses and X-Pro Expert Witness Register. I am a member of The North of England Medico-Legal society.
